Barstow Community College Announces Production of Wonder of the World

(Barstow, Calif. – October 7, 2008) Barstow College's Performing Arts Department is set to open its fall season with the production Wonder of the World. Opening night is slated for Friday, October 17, with performances following on October 18, 19, 24, and 25. Show time is 7:30 p.m. for Friday and Saturday showings, and a special Sunday matinee begins at 2 p.m. All performances will be held inside the interim Performing Arts Center. General admission is $7. Admission for students and seniors is $5.

Wonder of the World is directed by Theatre Arts instructor Amy Ross and features familiar faces as well as newcomers to BCC performing arts stage. Alisha Jaramillo will star as Cass Harris, with Allen Frazier as Kip Harris, Holly Hainy as Lois Coleman, Dee Espinoza as Karla, J. Verl Silvester as Glen, Cliff Tate as Captain Mike, Rose Scarborough-Tate as Barbara and the Pilot, Barbara Scott-Blakely as the Waitresses, and Melinda Vargas as Janie.

Wonder of the World, a David Lindsay-Abaire play, opened in 2000 at the Manhattan Theatre Club and starred Sarah Jessica Parker. The play is a zany comedy about a wife who leaves her husband after discovering a rather disturbing secret. Please note that due to language and content, the performance may not be suitable for everyone.

For more information on Barstow Community College's production of Wonder of the World, please call director Amy Ross at 252-6702.
