

Finding the Current Schedule of Classes

Go to www.barstow.edu and choose
Course Schedules

You will have the option of viewing the schedule in either PDF or HTML format.
Click on the link of your choosing

Here are the links to the static schedule. Please note there are both a pdf and html version of the schedule for your convenience. The links below can be used to view the entire schedule, but this is static information which will not be updated. To see which classes still have available seats you should click the link above that shows which classes are still open for enrollment.
